Air-Fighting Breaks Out Near Manchuria Border

Air Battles Are Resumed Near Korean Border

First Clash In Week Takes Place In 'Mig-Alley' Area

(BULLETIN)
EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 19.—(Thursday)—(INS)—Communist forces greatly increased their activity in West Korea Wednesday and banded numerous counterattacks into allied lines in the east, winning back one tall peak north of Yanggu.

By DON A. SCHANCHE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

At least one Russian-type MIG-15 jet plane was shot down and five others damaged today in a battle with United Nations jet planes over north-west Korea.

The downed MIG was knocked out of the skies by Capt. Dennis L. Skeen, Twin Falls, Idaho, a Thunderjet pilot who was on his third mission over Korea and had never before seen a MIG.

The damaged enemy planes were hit by American F-86 Sabrejets. There was no immediate word as to whether any of the UN planes were damaged in the first outbreak of jet fighting in a week.

Near Border

The air-fighting took place near Sinuiju on the Korean-Manchurian border in the area the American pilots have dubbed "MIG Alley."

In Wednesday's ground fighting Allied forces continued to smash at strong Communist hill defenses on both wings of the North Korean front and the Reds retaliated with counter attacks.

On the east front the Communists pushed the Allies off a peak north of Yanggu Wednesday. The action came in the same general area where the UN infantrymen had had topped three more enemy mountain top positions in Tuesday's fighting.

In the west an armored column dubbed "Task Force Cutthroat" sped along the narrow valley west of Chonwon deep into enemy territory where a 250,000-man Red buildup was reported.

Three Hills Fall

The three hills in eastern Korea fell to Allied soldiers who had been struggling up their slopes for several days.

Nature gets slightly mixed in its seasons once in a while and attempts to produce a second crop in a season when it normally produces one. A plum tree on the farm of Rev. Harry Poling, R. D. 2, Volant, is displaying quite a large number of blossoms at the present time. The fact was attested by a branch from the tree brought into The News Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Poling's brother Ralph.

Lawrence county's neighboring county of Butler has also raised its status to that of a fifth class county, along with this county, it is learned. Practically the same official changes made here will be made in Butler due to the change approved by Governor Fine. A certificate authorizing the change has been received by officials of both counties.

When clocks are restored to eastern standard time a week from Saturday night, custodians of county and federal buildings will not have to move the hands of their clocks due to the fact that

Urges All-Out Production Of Atomic Weapons By U.S.

By HARLEY MURRAY

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Senate Armed Services Chairman Russell (D) Ga., joined today in a drive for all-out atomic weapons production aimed at saving 30 billion dollars annually in military spending.

The Congressional move to cut huge defense expenditures by replacing conventional military armaments with an atomic army, navy and air force was touched off by Chairman McMahon (D) Conn., of the Atomic Energy Committee.

Prevent Third World War

McMahon insisted in a Senate speech Tuesday that mass production of atomic weapons is the cheapest and most effective way to prevent a Third World War.

Russell added that expansion of atomic weapons stocks "could result in a drastic reduction in the standing forces."

The Armed Services Committee chairman declared: "I am for developing the most

Man Killed As Scaffold Falls

Ohio Man Meets Death, Another Hurt

John Mastorides, aged 46 years, of 125 Princess street, Campbell, O., met instant death Tuesday and a fellow worker miraculously escaped with only minor injuries when a scaffold on which they were working fell a distance of 50 feet when one of the ropes holding the scaffold parted.

John, 55 years, of 58 Tenth street, Campbell, escaped with brush burns when he was able to seize a rope and lower himself to the ground.

The accident occurred at the plant of the Carbon Limestone Co., about 12:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Mastorides suffered brain injuries and internal injuries it was stated.

Coroner Charles E. Allen, who was summoned to the scene discovered that the rope holding one side of the scaffold apparently had been cut, but the resulting investigation, which was joined in by state police, revealed that the rope had probably rubbed against the

Welcome To City Given At Opening Meeting Today

Official opening of the two-day Wolves convention got underway this morning at 9 o'clock, at The Castleton, with prominent civic leaders of the city as principal speakers of the morning session.

After a period of registration and get acquainted, Anthony N. Carbon, general chairman called the convention to order. Rev. Fr. Raymond F. Heintz, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church gave the opening prayer.

The theme of the convention is "Make Wolves Nationwide." Headquarters for the new organization to be known as The National Association of The Wolves, will be in New Castle. Wolves Dens from New Castle, Ellwood City and Ambridge participated in the morning sessions.

Welcome From City

In the absence of Mayor John F. Haven, who was attending an important meeting, Bernard N. Hanlon extended the welcome and greetings from the city of New Castle.

"The city is yours," Mr. Hanlon stated, speaker for Mayor Haven. "I bid you welcome and hope that throughout your sessions today and Thursday, you will find success in your undertaking."

Richard E. Rentz, of the New Castle News, voiced his greetings and said in part: "I know that this group is large in spirit and have definite aims in your convention proceedings—definite aims which all Americans should have."

Ex-Bookie Gross Refuses To Testify

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(INS)—Ex-bookie czar Harry Gross clammed up again today on the witness stand at New York's police-graft trial and for the second day refused to answer questions.

He was immediately "frozen" in his seat by Judge Samuel Leibowitz who told him he'd be kept right there, for two days, if necessary, whether he answered questions or not.

Preliminary Exchange

The four diplomats, who are attending the North Atlantic treaty organization (NATO) conference in Ottawa, did the spade work for the agreement at an initial 50-minute session last night.

They issued a communique announcing that "a preliminary exchange for views had taken place."

Finding the proper procedure for nullifying the restrictive treaty clauses, however, will be a more difficult task. Simple revision is impossible because of the opposition of Russia—a major signatory.

British and French sources said the broad principles of agreement would be laid down in Ottawa. The details will be ironed out in subsequent confabs between Acheson and De Gasperi in Washington. Morrison and Schuman are leaving for home late Tuesday.

The Big Four meetings are taking place concurrently with the fast-moving North Atlantic council sessions, where Italy has played a key role in the international discussions.

House To Speed Action On State Tax Proposals

Set To Steamroller Compromise Tax Program On To Senate

By ED HAUCK

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19.—House Republicans are set today to steamroller a $138,250,000 compromise tax program through the lower chamber and send it to an apathetic Senate.

In another move to back up its intention to square away the tax-budget impasse the $20,000,000 civil defense bill was slashed to $8,000,000 and reported from the House appropriations committee for floor action.

And for the third straight day, Senate GOP leaders promised that the caucus would consider the tax package substitute for the twice-rejected income tax to balance the $1,220,000,000 proposed by Gov. John S. Fine to operate the state for the 1951-53 biennium.

Republican senators ducked comment on the merits of the program and generally appeared reluctant to face up to what House chiefs promise is the last effort the lower chamber will make to solve the deadlock which has kept the General Assembly in session longer than any other in modern times.

Await House Action

However, Sen. James R. Berger (R) Potter, caucus chairman, did say the program was "meeting with considerable favor" but that discussion would be held off until the House approved it.

He said House Majority Leader Charles C. Smith, of Philadelphia, would delay the package to the caucus sometime today after its passage.

But Smith in a scathing speech on the floor warned that the lower chamber was going out on the limb

Prepare For Observance Of Pennsylvania Week

Lawrence county will take part in the celebration of Pennsylvania Week, from October 15 to 21.

James A. Rugh, president of the Greater New Castle association, has been appointed chairman for Lawrence county for the celebration and has already named regional chairmen.

R. J. "Denny" Schill of Ellwood City is named chairman for his home town; Harold W. Marshall is chairman for Wampum; Bert Schroeder is chairman for Bessemer, and Samuel Sloan chairman for New Wilmington.

John F. Henderson has been named chairman for New Castle. Make Tentative Plans Tuesday afternoon Mr. Rugh met with his regional chairmen in the Elks Home on North Mill street and outlined tentative plans for the celebration here.

This is the fourth year for a Pennsylvania Week celebration. Originated by Governor James H. Duff in 1948, its purpose is to highlight for the week the multiple advantages of this commonwealth.

Different communities adopt different methods of marking the week. Open house celebrations in industries, window displays by merchants, parades—these and other forms have been used.

The exact manner in which Lawrence county will mark the week will be made known later.

Deny Alarmist Rumors On King George's Condition

By THOMAS C. WATSON

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Sources close to specialists attending ailing King George VI declared today there is "no justification" for alarmist rumors that the king has cancer or tuberculosis.

The informants said that examinations which were conducted over the past three weeks showed no grounds for suspecting such diseases "at this moment."

The reference in the physicians' bulletin to "structural changes in the lung" was said by these sources to be concerned possibly with a small area of the lung failing to function.

Such an eventuality could arise from shrinkage of the walls of the lung and the developments of cavities in the bronchial tubes resulting in a persistent lung condition over a lengthy period.

The condition would be similar to the bronchial trouble suffered in the last years of life by King George V, father of the present monarch.

The conference opened at 10 o'clock this morning and at noon little but preliminary work had been covered.

The union is asking 15 cents per hour and fringe benefits. The company has made some concessions in fringe benefits but insists it has brought wages up to the point permitted by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Reds Ask Second Liaison Meeting On Thursday

Allies Admit Second Minor Breach Of Kaesong's Neutrality

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Sept. 19.—The command in Korea tonight summoned a new liaison meeting for tomorrow morning at which time the Reds may possibly reply to an Allied bid for reopening of the long-dormant armistice talks.

The session was set for 6 a.m. Thursday (4 p.m. Wednesday EDT) after the Allies admitted a second minor breach of Kaesong's neutrality Tuesday when four unarmed ROK (Republic of Korea) medical corpsmen "wandered into" the conference area.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's public information chief, Brig. Gen. Frank Allen, announced receipt of a message at 7 p.m., in which the Red command requested Thursday's liaison meeting at Pan Mun Jom near Kaesong.

No Hint of Purpose

Allen said the Communists have no hint as to the purpose of the meeting.

However, the Allies have been awaiting for three days an answer to a note from Ridgway proposing that the North Korean-Chinese command end its suspension of the armistice parley and call a liaison session to arrange for resumption of the talks.

Three Allied newsmen, Allen announced, will be permitted to accompany the UN liaison team when it proceeds early Thursday to Pan Mun Jom from the UN armistice base at Munsan.

Newsmen were not allowed to go to Pan Mun Jom and Kaesong Wednesday when UN and Red liaison officers met for a joint on-the-spot investigation of the latest neutrality infringement charged by the Communists. The reporters were barred by the UN command at the specific request of the Reds.

Announce Inquiry Result

Announcing the outcome of the joint inquiry, Ridgway's Tokyo headquarters said earlier Wednesday evening that the four "military personnel" described by the Reds as having entered the neutral zone were ROK medical corps soldiers.

The announcement said the Communists at Wednesday's meeting did not broach the subject of resuming the armistice conference. This dispelled earlier speculation that the Reds would use the occasion to probe chances of reviving the parley.

The headquarters release said the four ROK medical corpsmen who inadvertently rode into the Kaesong area were "part of an anti-epidemic unit armed with nothing more dangerous than DDT."

'Lost Their Way'

They "lost their way yesterday afternoon," the announcement related and were detained overnight for 20 hours by the Communist authorities at Kaesong.

The four men were released Wednesday morning to an Allied liaison group which met for an hour and 35 minutes with Communist officers at Kaesong for a joint investigation and discussion of the episode.

The investigation "took place without incident and in an atmosphere almost completely devoid of tension," said the statement from Ridgway's offices.

although the exact steps to be taken will be determined by further diagnosis.

The doctors are determined that the king must cooperate fully in the treatment and cut his public duties to a minimum, a course likely to encounter stern resistance from the ruler.

The question of going through with a royal visit to Australia and New Zealand, scheduled for 1952, is still under review and is not likely to be settled for several weeks.

There is a growing public demand for a cancellation but the doctors feel that a long sea voyage might prove beneficial.

Although the king is a very sick man and the greatest care is needed, no immediate anxiety is felt. There is no possibility of a cancellation of the trip to Canada and the United States planned for next month by Princess Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

eral days. Their North Korean defenders resisted so bitterly they had to be burned and blasted out of their bunker positions with flamethrowers and grenades.

The fighting raged all day Tuesday in the area northwest of Yangju. It was not until nearly midnight that the last Communist resistance was mopped up on the third commanding hill after the other two had been seized.

On the rocky slopes of one of the heights the Reds left 206 of their dead after 15 hours of battle. Thirty-seven were taken prisoner.

Surprise Thrust

"Task Force Cutthroat" launched its surprise thrust early Tuesday in three columns, two of which plunged up the valley west of Choswon while the third headed for the south slope of a hill mass defended by a Chinese Red battalion.

The United Nations tank-infantry forces slugged it out with the enemy battalion but were unable to dislodge the Reds.

At one point, UN infantrymen managed to reach within 100 feet of the hillcrest but were forced to pull back as night fell.

Elsewhere across the Korean peninsula, the Reds offered mild resistance to Allied patrols. But in one part of the eastern front, the North Koreans unleashed a series of small counterattacks which however failed to push UN troops out of new-won positions.

Supporting the UN ground forces, Allied planes flew more than 700 sorties through cloudy skies and rain Tuesday, striking at enemy supply movements.

Fifth Air Force and U.S. Marine airmen reported wrecking 212 rail cars and 450 road vehicles in day and night missions. They cut railroad tracks and highways at 65 places.

The Connecticut Senator said rapid expansion of A-bomb production at a cost of an additional five billion dollars would save taxpayers 30 to 40 billions a year because atomic weapons are best and cheapest in prevention of a Third World War.

To Investigate Boyles' Checks

Senate Influence Probers Continue Inquiry On Loans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(INS)—Senate influence probers hope to find out today how interested the Democratic national committee was in 1949 government loans to the American Lithofold Corp. of St. Louis.

They call E. Merl Young, intimate of Washington bigwigs, to expand on previous testimony he was the "contact man" of the Democratic committee with the Reconstruction Finance Corp., which made a total of half a million dollars in loans to Lithofold.

Chairman Huey (D) N. C., said that "we want to find out if Young was dealing for himself or for the Democratic committee."

Meanwhile, Sen. Mundt (R) S. D., a member of the investigating committee, demanded that the unit look into what he said was a new development disclosed on the senate floor by Sen. Williams (R) Del., who is not on the inquiry committee.

Williams produced photographs of two $50 checks to Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle from the Lithofold firm. One check was dated Feb. 28, 1949. Williams noted that this is the same day that a previous witness testified Boyle called the RFC in Lithofold's behalf. Williams said this was the "important" check. The other was dated April 15, 1949.

Mundt said it is "news to me" that Boyle got a check on the same day as the phone call. Mundt added, "It is an amazing coincidence and one we certainly must get into." The RFC approved its first Lithofold loan three days after the phone call.

for the last time to pull the Senate from the mire of indecision on taxes.

He was referring to the House's efforts to pass the income tax which Governor Fine relied on heavily to balance the budget and its eventual rejection by 11 recalcitrant GOP senators.

Tax Program

The package calls for a pay-as-you-go plan for the corporate net income tax to set up collections, a one per cent real estate transfer levy, increasing from 10 to 20 per cent the tax on inheritances of other than lineal descendants and plugging loopholes in some existing taxes.

"I think this is a painless package, it gets us out of trouble, and will not increase collection costs," said Smith.

Then, in an obvious reference to Senate Republicans, he added:

"The House at least had the guts to pass the package to get the money and I wish we could say that about some other group."

"I think both sides of the House (Democrats and Republicans) have been very lenient about some things going on around the capitol. We have been here too long through no fault of our own and have put up with a lot of tomfoolery from a few individuals."

Later, Smith said there are enough House Republicans in favor of the package to pass it although Democrats yesterday indicated they would debate the individual measures when they came up for final reading today.

"Peoples from the entire nation will soon hear of our city." He extended greetings and reiterated the assistance of the G.N.C.A. at all times.

Rev. Fr. Raymond Heintz, and Attorney Joseph Leta, the latter co-chairman of the convention also made brief remarks. George Scarazzo is the president of the local Wolves club.

At noon the convention adjourned for a luncheon in the Castleton ballroom.

The convention continues this afternoon with an election of officers and a tour of the Shenango Pottery. An informal buffet lunch at 6:30 o'clock closes today's program.

fused to forward the Iranian ultimatum because he feared it would "only aggravate an already serious situation."

Harriman's refusal to forward the ultimatum was revealed in a message sent last Saturday to Tehran in reply to an Iranian request received three days earlier.

Situation Uncertain

The Iranian ultimatum would expire 15 days after it is received by the British government, but the state department said it did not know whether Iran has gone ahead yet and sent the demand on its own.

Iranian premier Mossadeq, in forwarding his demands, complained that he had anticipated a reopening of the talks by British delegate Richard Stokes, adding, "unfortunately, we have been kept in suspense up to this moment."

"This state of suspense which has lasted has become intolerable," Mossadeq declared.

Mossadeq, as a basis for new talks, proposed:

1. A group of British and "neutral" foreign experts to operate the oil projects under an Iranian board.

2. A determination of the amount of compensation to the Anglo-Iranian oil company on the basis of the quoted value of the company's shares prior to nationalization.

3. Iran will sell Britain 10 million tons of oil—its normal import consumption—at prevailing prices.

If these terms are not accepted within 15 days after Britain receives them, the residents, permits of Britons now working in the oil fields will be lifted.

until the Danish government instructs its foreign minister to vote for or against the U. S. resolution recommending the admission of Greece and Turkey into the NATO alliance.

The Netherlands and Norway have indicated they are ready to go along with the majority, although their foreign ministers at the talks have said their parliaments expect extensive clarifications on the new commitments involved before ratifying the admission.

The 12 busy foreign ministers, racing as inst time in rearming Europe against the communist threat, hope to end the conference by tomorrow. They have reserved decisions on major problems for the Rome conference of the NATO, starting October 26.

They have instructed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, for example, to report to the Rome meeting on the state and quality of NATO defense positions and to recommend further steps.

THE WILL TO LIVE

Disease is a manifestation of living things struggling for their existence. Tiny organisms invade higher orders of life in a desperate search for a suitable place in which to live. When a pathogenic organism achieves success and begins to reproduce, its host is taken ill. The disease may be called tuberculosis, measles, typhoid fever, or some other more or less familiar name. Fortunately, humans, although far outnumbered, have the ability to destroy undesirable organisms by the millions. Our business is to compound and supply the medicines needed to fight disease. We consider it a privilege to serve.

PROBING AIR CRASHES

The navy has a good airplane it calls the PB4Y, or Privateer. It is the navy version of the Consolidated-made Liberator of proven worth as a long-range bomber in both the European and the Pacific theaters in World War II.

The Privateer is the Lib with the regular four engines and the fuselage but not the double tail assembly. It has a single huge tail-fin and rudder about as high as a four-story building.

What the Privateer will do is to take off in the morning at first light, go out 800 to 1,000 miles, make a dogleg of 200 miles, and return to base in time for evening chow.

These long-range patrol bombers based in 1945 at Clark Field in the Philippines, for example, fanned out to blockade the South China Sea from Formosa clear down to Indo-China.

That was tropical flying. Sub-Arctic flying is something else. Fog and cold put even greater strains on men and aircraft. The report comes that in the Alaska area, during the past few weeks, four Privateers have crashed killing 45 men.

Since July, the navy says, nine other naval and air force planes have crashed in that region. But apparently it is the Privateers—on long reconnaissance flights toward Siberia—that have encountered the most trouble, whatever the causes may be.

The navy says they crashed. Apparently they weren't shot down by the Russians, as it is assumed was the fate of that other Privateer in the Baltic in April, 1950.

For "moral reasons"—after these "baffling and distressing accidents"—Patrol Squadron Nine has been grounded at its base somewhere in Alaska's western fringes. A naval board of inquiry will check and double check possible sources of failure in planes and crew.

Even if sabotage and enemy attack can be ruled out, it's not so easy to rule out the rigors of the climate, the strain of those long grinds out and back, or the dullness of life on the ground.

RED UNDERGROUND

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the Communist party in the United States has "gone into a real underground operation with nothing but a sham above ground. Very little of the party machinery is visible today."

Across the country, according to a survey made by a wire news service, branch offices of the Communist party have been closing down. Some that are still in existence are unmanned and party telephones go unanswered. A few have moved to cheaper quarters.

The apparent result is that distribution of Communist literature has been severely curtailed, that few party meetings are being arranged, and activities in general have been reduced to a shadow of what they formerly were.

In the past Communists and their works have been in the public view to a certain extent, although it has taken a great deal of effort on the part of law enforcement officials and congressional committees—starting with that headed by Rep. Martin Dies—to educate the American people in Communist aims and practices.

Now the greater part of the structure seems to have vanished. It would be a mistake, however, to assume it no longer exists.

The Smith Act, which makes it a crime to conspire to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force, does not outlaw the Communist party. But any member of the party who can be proved a part of such a conspiracy can be sent to jail. Some have been sentenced to prison terms while a number of others are awaiting trial.

This threat, beyond any question, has had a great deal to do with what has been happening to Communist centers that formerly operated openly.

But it must not be concluded the problem has been solved. Communists have gone underground in other countries and gained strength while operating in that manner because the task of combating them was made more difficult.

PROBLEM OF AIR BASES

North Atlantic Treaty nations are agreed that American air power is fundamental to Western Europe's defense. They acknowledge, too, that to make that power effective the United States must have many new bases on the continent, particularly in France.

Yet very little is being done to expand the air base system in Europe. Why? Because the United States and the nations of Europe cannot agree on a formula for sharing the cost of the necessary fields.

No one can fairly pretend this is an easy matter. France already is strained to support an armed force far, far smaller than its World War II army. Other countries feel themselves in similar straits. We on the other hand believe this is one place where Europe ought to make the chief contribution.

Admittedly, NATO is an experiment in international military co-operation on a scale never before tried. New problems of sharing responsibilities and burdens were bound to arise. But there is scant hope for this experiment if so vital a matter as paying for essential airfields cannot be readily settled.

Then there's the Hollywood celebrity who set a new style by NOT wearing sun-glasses in public.

Losing gloves is a symptom, says a medico. Of what—that the right hand doesn't know what the left is doing?

Speed European Defense Army

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has echoed U. S. Secretary of State Acheson's warning that "time is short" in speeding creation of a European defense army.

He held a special cabinet session that he probably will start conferring next week with the allied high commission on the western offer of a "peace contract" in return for German troop contributions to an allied defense structure.

The 75-year-old chancellor also apparently is more optimistic about West German public acceptance of the plan than he was a year ago when the rearmament issue was raised by the Atlantic pact council.

Opposed Idea Then

Germans generally opposed the idea then, and many of them still do. Those willing to accept, including some German war veterans organizations, also will seek the best bargain possible for Germany.

When French Premier Rene Pleven first tabled a year ago the plan for a European army, as distinct from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's overall forces, it caused some embarrassment in Washington and London.

The United States military officials since have given the idea their approval, but still believe that the "European army" raises very complex problems such as varying languages, command and supply questions.

Because of these problems U. S. officials would like two modifications of the French plan. One would allow the Bonn government to fix the time for calling up recruits.

A second would have the U. S. army train these recruits until the European army is actually created. Instead, being just a paper army.

British Idea Changes

British aloofness from the European army plan has changed to an attitude of approval.

British objections at first were based on the precedent of another

French idea, the Schuman plan for pooling coal and steel industries in west Europe, as a step toward economic and political federation.

The British idea was that if they were to shun a partial surrender of economic sovereignty then the same objection should be raised against surrendering military sovereignty.

But this parallel is misleading. Actually under the European plan if Britain joins it is not committing all its armed forces, but merely a European segment of them.

Britain Committed

Britain also is fully committed to the defense of continental Europe under the larger North Atlantic treaty organization, of which the European army will be a part. Britain balked at the Schuman industrial plan because it would have required the socialist-ruled nation to merge economic policies with the continental neighbors. These policies clash because of Britain's nationalization and rigid home-controlled economy compared to the continental coal and steel industries which are mainly privately owned.

The European army plan is one of merging defense policies, and such policies will not conflict in the foreseeable future because of the danger of Soviet aggression.

Influential Britons well can argue that it is to the nation's interest to see that Britain has a strong voice in any European army arrangement whereby France, Belgium and Italy will develop close special links with West Germany.

In the early months of the Civil war his family was partisan to the Southern cause and as a result suffered greatly at the hands of Union forces. To retaliate, he became an informer at the age of 15. Serving with the guerrilla forces of C. W. Quantrell, he established a reputation for marksmanship and daring. At the end of the war he and the rest of the band surrendered but soon afterward he was shot treacherously and wounded severely. The next year he was declared an outlaw. He was killed in his home by two members of his gang.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Through trucks are now being instructed to use the new by-pass bridge at Grove street . . . let's hope that this relieves some of the congestion on East Washington street and the big hill . . . but let's not let our hopes go too high for some of the congestion is and has been caused by the local motorists . . . the ones who disregard the rules of good driving . . . those who double park or alight from their cars on the wrong side. It's a crime the way people get out of their cars on the traffic side of the vehicle . . . some places this practice calls for a stiff fine. Well, the police have a large job and they alone can't keep all of the rules enforced all of the time . . . so that's where you the motoring public come into the picture. If you think that traffic conditions in this community "stink" then you should take some of the blame . . . for you make 'em "stink" in a great part.

Rough words . . . well, it's the truth . . . not only the drivers disregard the rules but the pedestrians as well. Cross over the street anywhere seems to be the rule . . . when cars come close you cuss the driver . . . and when you are the driver you cuss the pedestrian. If a driver stops his car to let a pedestrian cross a street, the following driver lays on the horn and yells for the polite driver to get the (you know what) out of there.

Try getting out of a parking space when traffic is heavy . . . the only one who stops and lets you into the line of traffic is the fellow who wants that particular spot . . . and then what happens . . . while that fellow is placing his car for a neat shot back into the space, another driver comes along and heads right into the space . . . there is a clash . . . if not of steel on steel . . . at least eyes on eyes. Words are heard for half a block around. Some one gives up and after a spell traffic moves along. Some time blows are thrown and a police case is made.

Well, let's hope that the through truck traffic will help solve some of the main street traffic problems . . . but more than that, let's see some thoughtfulness on the part of the car operators.

Washington Calling

Draft Eisenhower Movement

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In spite of all the brave talk, the somewhat melancholy "September Song" is actually the theme song of the Eisenhower-for-president movement. Eisenhower's supporters must play the waiting game, and the waiting game may not be enough. This, at any rate, is the view of some who have now convinced themselves that no help whatsoever can be expected from General Eisenhower himself. If Eisenhower gets the Republican nomination, it must be by way of a genuine draft and such a draft has never, with one possible exception, occurred in American political life.

The exception was the late Charles Evans Hughes, who was on the supreme court in 1916. Although powerful forces within the Republican party put great pressure on Hughes, he made no public statement and took no part in the nomination. Hughes accepted the Republican nomination and was narrowly defeated by Woodrow Wilson in November of that year.

Gave Complete Report

The latest emissary to return from a visit to Eisenhower is representative Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. On his return, Scott gave a complete report of his visit to Senator James Duff of the same state and to other Republicans booming the general.

Scott is himself not downcast. He feels, since the general did not tell him to stop the efforts he has been making to capture the nomination, that in effect he has a green light and will therefore work all the harder. Former Senator Harry Darby of Kansas will be in Washington this week to confer on next steps to be taken.

In the report he made, Scott explained that he had told Eisenhower it was his duty to accept a responsibility above and beyond any he had previously taken. He also explained that he and the others were working in the general's behalf without any thought of patronage or reward of any kind.

But you must know," he told Eisenhower, "that the boys down in the engine room, whose thinking is that of the Chicago Tribune, are offering postmasterhips and everything else to all and sundry. And the men and women who are getting these offers are the delegates who will select the nominee at Chicago."

Stressed the Risk

As after have done before, Scott stressed the risk taken by those who were working for the Eisenhower candidacy. Ike has never been impressed by that argument. His reply has always been that he himself took great risks in accepting the assignment as commander of the North Atlantic defenses and that those who believe in him must also be willing to take risks if they are sufficiently dedicated to the cause of welding the free world together.

As the clearest statement of his position, Eisenhower cited an article in the Washington Post of August 19 written by Managing Editor J. R. Wiggins. While that article cited no sources, it stated flatly that Eisenhower would make no statement and take no action of any kind to get the nomination.

That is, he will make no statement unless and until it became obvious that so many delegates are pledged to him that the nomination is almost certainly his.

Will Be Intensified

The draft-Eisenhower movement, will be intensified as a result of Scott's report. Governor Thomas E. Dewey told Duff that he meant to do everything in his power to bring it about. And Dewey has demonstrated, in spite of his two defeats for the presidency, that he has great political skill.

But there remains even among Republicans who have most prayerfully for Eisenhower's nomination a gnawing doubt as to whether this effort at second hand will be sufficient. Eisenhower is a long way from the political urgencies that will determine the outcome of next year's nomination and election. He is entirely preoccupied with a task of monumental proportions, in which success is far from guaranteed.

The Hughes draft is not too close a parallel. Hughes had not an active political career, serving as governor of New York prior to his appointment to the supreme court. He had friends in the inner circle of the Republican party.

As a professional military man, Eisenhower has spent virtually his whole life entirely outside the framework of politics in America. What is more, powerful and determined individuals in the GOP are out to stop the Eisenhower draft even if it means smearing the general's private life. The nature of that smear campaign will be examined in a later column.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

"We've got weapons so powerful they frighten us" sounds odd, but that seems to be the story in Washington.

England ran a big fair this year, Paris ran an exposition and Washington ran a temperature and still wakes up screaming in the night.

Two weeks before Margaret Truman sailed for Europe one "informal" administration spokesman was whooping through another big spending bill with the cry that Russia was going to attack Europe any moment.

Margaret went, spent six weeks, came back, celebrated another birthday, was romantically linked with three more young men, made a few more guest appearances and we've got another new big spending bill . . . that's all.

It doesn't look like congress ever will get around to a real vacation this year but the way they've been systematically scared up probably the only place they want to go is under the bed.

But I think we're all interested in these weapons so powerful we can't win a police action.

They Say

BELGRADE—Marshal Tito: "We do not know when they (the Soviet leaders) will realize Yugoslavia is not a nation of their slaves but of bold, proud men."

WASHINGTON—President Truman: "There are a lot of people who are trying to make political capital by stirring the loyalty and efficiency of government employees and trying to bring the public service into disrepute."

WITH ATLANTIC PACT FORCES—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower: "Our job is a peculiar one—to develop strength and preserve peace. We are sure there is no other way to halt communist dictatorship."

SAN FRANCISCO—AFL Chief-tain William Green: "We are determined that, come what may, under no circumstances will we permit the Soviet Union to dominate the entire world."

Yes, But How Many?

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.—"Anna will fix it" is what they said last winter when Mrs. Anna Rosenberg was brought in to solve the problem of manpower waste in the Armed Services; but many months later the echo answers, "When?"

The echo is personified in Senator Harry Byrd whose committee on Non-Essential Expenditures occupies a cave on the first floor of the Senate Office Building and who from there carries on a rather plaintive correspondence with Madame Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower and Personnel. The gist of Byrd's letters can be summarized into that query, "When?" But the substance of her answers is being lost in the windy notions of Federal prose.

Not Yet Put In Order

It's no unkindness to report that Mrs. Rosenberg, a person of great charm and ability, hasn't yet been able to put the Pentagon bureaucracy in order. Who, for that matter, ever has? But as an efficiency expert of real note, the lady inspired much hope that the Defense Department employment of civilian tax-eaters could be put on a business basis. Maybe this will still come to pass, but time is ticking on. And meanwhile Senator Byrd, peering over a mass of economizing desk-work, recently gave your reporter a most astonishing opinion—that the Defense Department just doesn't know how many persons are on its payroll.

How's that again? In order to give the statement full force, I got it in writing and the Senator confirmed it. He said:

"While the committee accepts the military establishment's monthly reports on civilian employment (because they are certified to by responsible officials of that establishment), the accuracy of these reports is doubtful."

Why Estimates Are Not Taken

Here, in the careful language of a top authority, is why Pentagon estimates of military needs are no longer classed with the wisdom of Solomon. The biggest employer in the world, the spender of 60 per cent of the national budget, the guardian of national safety is like Solomon in only one way—it has so many children that it's lost count.

This is an ignorance of more than jocular importance. The new appropriations bill, as passed by the House, sets a limit of 530,000 civilian workers for the Defense Department. But with the Department authorized to hire 7500 new workers a month, Byrd doesn't see how Mrs. Rosenberg will know when she's reached the legal ceiling—or how far she's zoomed above it.

It won't do to say that hers is an easy job. The Department hires all sorts and conditions of civilians in all parts of the world. They are full-pay, part-pay, experts, accountants, on-call consultants and everything else known to the bureaucratic mind. Still, Byrd thinks the public ought to know where the money goes. For the past several months he's been writing Mrs. Rosenberg for pertinent data, and she's been answering promptly. But some of the exchanges run like this:

Some Of Exchanges

Byrd: How many people in the Pentagon are "waiting on officers"? Rosenberg: "No personnel (are) waiting on officers in the capacity of servants; however, there are personnel working (as) waiters and cooks."

Byrd: How many doing clerical work in the Pentagon?

Rosenberg: "Because of the manifest difficulty of categorizing all jobs as either strictly clerical or strictly non-clerical, the numbers below represent best estimates."

Byrd: What are you doing to achieve employment efficiency?

Rosenberg: "We are making surveys involving 'evaluation and utilization of military and civilian personnel'; also surveys of 'evaluation and potential utilization of personnel,' etc."

These are not exactly the crisp answers which Byrd is seeking. A hideous suspicion arises that Mrs. Rosenberg, such a sharp little business executive when she arrived, is suffering from the occupational hazards of Federal circumspection and blackout prose.

That's too bad. Byrd, who did as much as any man to get her confirmed as Assistant Secretary, was counting on better things. Hope springs eternal in the hearts of economists, but theirs is a life of constant disappointment.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You may never have heard of the village of Tuckahoe.

Tuckahoe is located only eighteen miles from New York City, where the world's most hard-boiled people are supposed to live, and where "Thank You" and "Please" are supposed to be words of a dead language.

Tuckahoe is populated mostly by New York commuters and this little story will show you how a little kindness can produce miracles and transform these so-called "hard-boiled" New Yorkers into regular human beings such as you and I.

On the east side of the New York Central railroad tracks, near the station, is a 10 by 20 foot plot of ground, blooming with marigolds, zinnias and asters.

The flowers were planted last spring by the Village of Tuckahoe, which owns the property.

In other places where flower-beds are near the railroad stations, and in most parks where flowers are planted, you see stern signs such as "Keep Off" or announcing various degrees of punishment for picking the flowers.

Not so in Tuckahoe. Charles Puglisi, the village manager, figured that you can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar.

So he put up a sign, reading: "TAKE ONE FOR BOUTONNIERE."

Almost every Tuckahonian stops on his way to the station and helps himself to a boutonniere, and Luigi Maroccia, the fellow who tends the beds, says that he hasn't caught a single person yet who has taken more than one.

So now, if you should ever be at the Grand Central Station when the commuters' trains get in—the fellows with the flower in the buttonhole and the grin on their faces are people from Tuckahoe.

Incidentally, Maroccia has another trick. I am told.

Often, when the afternoon trains from New York get into the station, he'll see some fellow who looks cranky, and as if he had had a hard day.

Luigi thinks of that fellow's wife and children.

Says America Faces Danger

Service Clubs Are Warned In Address

Speaking before a combined meeting of local service clubs, under the auspices of the New Castle Lions Club, S. W. Rawlings, of Pittsburgh, eastern director of the National Federation of Independent Business, told his audience at a luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon, that the preservation of independent enterprise is one of the most important problems facing the country today.

The subject of his address was "Your Business." The freedom handed down by our forefathers, for which none of us had to work, he stated, is called capitalism today. Capitalism has fostered homes, independent enterprises, and an economic system, which we like.

Decentralize Government
In order to further effectually our democratic form of government, government must be decentralized, he asserted. When control of local affairs is lost, some form of ism sets in, with a loss of freedom to the people. If we lose our economic freedom, other freedoms will follow, just as was the case under Fascism in Italy, Nazism in Germany, Communism in Russia, and Socialism in England.

The freedoms which were given up by the peoples of these countries did not solve their problems. People in America may ask themselves today what freedom they have lost. The loss of economic and religious freedom is like the growth of a cancer, you cannot feel it for a long time, but when you do, it is too late, he said. The result is fatal. Your everyday activities drawn out its sound. The ringing of the cash register overcomes its noise.

Your congressman may be trying to do a good job, but he is doing it without your help. He is aware as well as you are that something is wrong, but he is working against odds without your support. Pressure groups are dictating his actions, and you are doing nothing to combat them.

People must take a more active action in trying to unravel the biggest mess that has ever existed in this nation. We have more to lose because the people of America have more than any other people in the world. The remedy, he suggested, was seeing that your congressman knows your views on these matters, which you should keep well informed about.

Jewish Council Opening Program At Temple Israel

Mrs. Sidney Moyer, a veteran of the stage in New York and Youngstown, gave a remarkable performance at the membership meeting of the New Castle Section of the National Council of Jewish Women, Tuesday afternoon at Temple Israel.

Mrs. Moyer's reading of the play, "Black Chiffon," was a delightful contrast to the serious tenor of the business meeting. She created an atmosphere of the theatre by her able interpretation of the drama created by a mother's possessive love of her son, which presents her acceptance of his marriage and causes her to commit petit larceny in a fit of mad jealousy.

Mrs. Sherman Samuels, chairman of the program introduced Mrs. Moyer. The meeting opened with the pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the Council Hymn by the group, followed by a prayer given by Mrs. Daniel Fisher.

A delicious dessert was served at a table in U-formation. The table was beautifully decorated with fall flowers.

Extends Greetings
Mrs. Myron Milbourn, president, extended greetings and called upon her chairman for the fine reports of work which was accomplished during the summer.

A visit to Polk Institute will be made on September 23, and Mrs. Howard Love will be in charge of arrangements. Bob Pandice, an entertainer at W.K.S.T., has consented to accompany the group to entertain the patients.

An interesting program for the Study Group on October 18, at the home of Mrs. Irving Nixon was announced by Mrs. Eliah Kaplan for the Ship-A-Box project.

Mrs. Jack Gerson made an emergency request for paper and pencils for the children in Israel. Mrs. Forrest Raffel spoke on the ways and means drive about to be launched and which will culminate in a Thanksgiving eve ball.

The budget for the year was presented by Mrs. Alec Samuels and was adopted. At the completion of business, Mrs. Jack Schwartz membership chairman introduced: Mrs. Morris Kruger, Mrs. Harry Burman, Mrs. Martin Henner, Mrs. Louis Moskowitz and Mrs. Jacob Horlick. They received lovely corsages.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Allen Slutsky, Mrs. Alvin Shenkan, Mrs. J. E. Ginsberg, Mrs. Abe Levine, Mrs. Maurice Davis, and Mrs. Jay Weiner. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Alvin Shenkan, Mrs. Milton Cushman and Mrs. Bernard Rosenthal.

Says Air Power Alone Not Effective In Halting Korean Drives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19—(INS)—Adm. William M. Fletcher asserted today that air power alone has not been effective in halting enemy advances in Korea and could not stop a Russian drive across Europe.

In his first formal speech since he became U.S. chief of naval operations, Fichtelner told the Washington Woman's Press Club that he supports the principle of "balanced forces."

Fichtelner said: "Air attack alone will not stop the advance of the Russian army against Western Europe."

"In Korea there has been no appreciable enemy opposition to our use of the air and though we have had a zone of approximately 110 miles over which our air effort was free to operate, there has been no effective retardation of the enemy advance by means of air alone, including naval aviation."

FRENCH TOWN MAKES GEN. IKE 'HONORARY CITIZEN'

HAPPY OVER THE WARM RECEPTION accorded him, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower grins broadly during a ceremony in which he was made an "honorary citizen" by the townfolk of Marnes-La-Coquette, France. Equally amused is Mrs. Eisenhower (right) as a citizenship diploma is waved by the mayor of the town. The Commander of the Atlantic Power Forces in Europe has been living in Marnes-La-Coquette. Murder Testimony

September term of criminal court finished Tuesday afternoon when the case against Eugene Dudash went to the jury. In court room two, Thomas Maelli withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty when the case was not quite through.

This was the sum of the term of criminal court. Before it opened there were about thirty five cases on the docket. This list was reduced by pleas.

There is one case not yet disposed of, the murder charge against Robert Lee Watkins. He has entered a plea and the court will hear the testimony to decide the degree of guilt.

Seventh Ward

Plan Halloween Event In Ward

Ward Civic Club
Plans Paper Drive

Although Halloween may be nearly six weeks away yet, Seventh Ward Civic Club will not let the date go by as plans are already in the offing for a gala Halloween celebration and parade in the Seventh Ward.

During the regular weekly session of the club members conducted in the New Liberty Hotel on Liberty street, Tuesday at noon, plans for Halloween were made, with no definite night set for the celebration. The club will sponsor a parade for the benefit of youngsters and older ones who will march over ward streets at various stages of dress.

President Fred McLure was in charge of the session when a number of other plans were discussed for the future of the ward and its citizens. Among these were definite arrangements to conduct a paper drive on Wednesday, October 17. The ladies derived therefrom will be used in paying for the Christmas lighting program of the seventh ward and also for the support of Mahoning Scout Troop four.

A change has been made for the next meeting of the club when a dinner session will be held in the Mahoning Methodist church, with the ladies of that church to serve the luncheon. It is expected to have a good representation of business and professional men on hand for the event.

During the meeting of Tuesday, September 25, it is hoped to have on hand representatives of the Pennsylvania railroad who will reveal the progress made toward the future construction of a new railroad passenger station on Montgomery avenue. Residents of the ward are anxious for an early start on the project. Since the original announcement that a station would be erected for the convenience of railroad passengers, no further word has been received concerning the proposal. It is hoped that the railroad officials will have good news to bring next Tuesday.

Crucial Game For Little League Team

Tonight's game at Little League Park between the seventh and fourth ward teams is attracting considerable interest and should find many ward residents at the Taylor street ball grounds.

The crucial contest is for the winner of the Little League title for the city and county in 1951. Seventh ward has one playoff win under their belt and hope to polish off the 1951 playoffs tonight by annexing the fast moving fourth ward team.

Should seventh ward win tonight, no further games will be needed to learn the winner of the title. If the fourth warders win a third and final game will be played at 5:30 p. m. Thursday evening. Tonight's contest gets under way at 5:30 at Little League Park.

Guitar music was enjoyed throughout the evening with several vocal selections being presented. A number of vocal solos were sung by his daughter, Mrs. Grad Harmon and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rose Perrotta.

Mr. Perrotta was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts in remembrance of his birthday.

X-Ray Cruiser Examines 1,221

Examinations To Continue This Week

Through Tuesday noon 1,221 adults and students had been X-rayed by the facilities of the Chest X-ray Cruiser, located in front of Eckerd's on East Washington street, New Castle.

The cruiser, located at Bessemer last Friday, was moved to New Castle Saturday and will remain here, with the exception of Thursday, for the rest of the week.

Thursday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock the unit will be moved to Wampum and then Thursday afternoon and evening from 2 to 8 it will travel to New Wilmington.

Board Well Pleased

J. O. Huston, president of the board of directors of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, sponsors of the X-ray survey, stated today, that he was very well pleased with the turn-out thus far, that each year finds more people interested in this annual program. Before the survey started, many calls were received by the society, asking if the program was to be carried out yearly. "Such interest is very gratifying," continued Mr. Huston, "as it takes many months of planning to carry out an annual chest X-ray survey, but as long as the public cooperates with the program, it is well worth the time and effort of the Tuberculosis Society."

"I earnestly urge residents of Lawrence county to have your entire family X-rayed, as an early diagnosis may mean your life or the life of someone dear to you."

"Saturday, September 22, will be the last day. The cruiser will not be held over this year because of previous engagements. Don't miss this opportunity."

Registration For Adult Education Classes Nears 700

Registration for classes in Adult Education, sponsored by the New Castle public schools, neared the 700 mark Tuesday evening at the second night of registration at New Castle Senior high school.

For the second straight night persons were turned away in certain overfilled classes, though there are still openings in others, it is reported by Earle M. Cass, vocational director.

Included in the openings is a class in mechanical drawing, which was not included in the list previously published. Enough demand has been received to warrant opening a class, however, Mr. Cass reports.

Other openings are in Dress Making, classes Monday morning, 9-12; English for the Non-English speaking; Typing I; Shortland II; Ceramic Art; and Woodshop at George Washington junior high school.

Persons wishing to register for any of these courses may register Wednesday or Thursday evenings of this week from 6-9 at Senior high school, or any evening next week.

Response for courses has been very good this year, it is announced. A total of 37 classes have already been formed and it is expected that more than 40 classes in all will be in operation.

Social Security

World War II
Service Counted
Toward Benefits

"For social security purposes, service in the armed forces of the United States during World War II counts the same as civilian employment," declares Myron Milbourn, manager of the New Castle office of the Social Security Administration.

Men and women who were removed from the civilian labor force for service in the armed forces were deprived of an opportunity to acquire wage credits under the old-age survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act.

The congress recognized this deficiency by amending the act in such a manner as to provide a wage credit of $160 a month for each month of active service in World War II between September 16, 1940, and July 24, 1947.

"These wage credits are automatic," says Mr. Milbourn, "if the veteran had 90 days of active duty, died in service or was discharged because of a service-connected disability. They will be added to wages received in civilian employment, upon presentation of the veteran's certificate of honorable discharge, either when he applies for retirement benefits at age 65 or later, or by his survivors in the event of his death."

Benefits, which may now be payable as a result of this $160 a month military service credit, will be paid regardless of any compensation or pension that is payable by the Veterans Administration.

"I want to emphasize the fact that many widows and children and dependent parents of deceased servicemen and service women, whose claims for survivors benefits were disallowed before September, 1950, may now be eligible and should get in touch with the nearest social security office. Families of servicemen who died in the service or shortly after they left the service should also get touch with their nearest social security office to find out whether there are any benefits payable to them," concluded the local manager.

Maybe you're missing something BIG

WE know how you feel when a car has given you faithful service. You like it. You're loyal to it. And that's only human.

But just suppose you found out that some other car could make familiar roads seem a lot smoother.

Suppose some other car held the curves in a way you'd never felt before.

Suppose some other car had more thrilling power — steered like a dream — held its course like an airliner on the beam — and let you finish a long day's drive feeling daisy fresh.

Wouldn't you feel you're missing something big unless you tried it out?

There is such a car. Its name is Buick.

It has big soft coil springs on every wheel. It has a Fireball Engine. It has a "front-end geometry" that does miracles with steering. And it has Dynaflo Drive.*

And incidentally, it wears a price tag that makes it a very smart buy compared to anything else you own.

We'd like to have you try this car. You'll never know what you're missing till you do.

How about giving us a call—or coming in to see us real soon?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

NO OTHER CAR
PROVIDES ALL THIS:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE*—saves strain on driver and car

FIREBALL ENGINE—high-compression, valve-in-head—gets more miles from every tank of fuel

PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection

WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night

TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—seals the chassis, steadies ride, improves driving control

4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs

SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum

DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models

Plus: Self locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-side rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

No Limit To U.S. Production Of Atomic Bombs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(INS)—Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., declared Tuesday that there is "virtually no limit" to the number of A-bombs the U. S. can produce and called for creation of an "atomic army, atomic navy and atomic air force" to replace conventional defenses.

McMahon, chairman of the congressional atomic energy committee, declared in a Senate speech that the "atomic bottlenecks are being broken" and military tactics should be revolutionized.

The senator called for a five billion dollar expansion in atomic production to bring the cost up to at least six billion dollars annually. He said this would save the nation from 30 to 40 billion dollars in defense spending because the atomic weapon is the cheapest as well as the best deterrent to war.

McMahon introduced a resolution also backed by Rep. Durham (D) N. C., vice chairman of the atomic committee, declaring that the U. S. "must go all out in atomic development and production."

MAKING TURNS FUN

One of the hardest things for young children to learn is to take turns gracefully. The three-year-old is naturally pretty self-centered and sees no good reason why he shouldn't have the tricycle all the time or go down the playground slide before everyone else. But one of the ways in which he becomes "civilized" is to learn to take turns. How he learns this is important. We can make it an unpleasant, distasteful experience, or it can be reasonably palatable. Efforts to make taking turns fun are worthwhile. For such learning is much more likely to be lasting than is that which seems to the child to be unfair.

Here's an example. When our twins were still under three, one of the things they liked particularly was to "ride horsey" on my foot. But the one who wasn't in the sad-die usually fussed until it was her turn. At first, inexperienced as the youngster, that seemed to do little good. Then we tried scolding. This, too, didn't get very good results. Finally, we hit on providing an interesting substitute activity for the child who wasn't "riding". She was placed on my shoulders until it was her turn and so was having a different kind of ride.

It isn't always easy to find ways to make taking turns fun but it is well worth the effort.

MacArthur, attired in a black suit and black bow tie, emerged from the suite accompanied by his chief aide, Gen. Courtney Whitney. MacArthur greeted reporters and took an elevator seven floors

Statistics Show Women Live Longer

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(INS)—Americans are living a good deal longer these days than they did 50 years ago, and the majority of the long-livers are women.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company reported these facts of life today.

It said that some 12,300,000 Americans, or one out of every 12 in the entire population, have passed their 65th birthdays. At the beginning of this century, the ratio was one out of every 25.

Of those 65 or older, according to Metropolitan's statistics, over 40 per cent are in the 65 to 69 age group. Among all those 65 or over, there are 116 women to every 100 men.

A little more than one-third of the women are married, most of the others are widowed. Of the men almost two-thirds are married, and less than a quarter are widowers.

The Metropolitan said most of America's aged live in cities. Two-thirds of the women and three-fifths of the men are city dwellers.

On the employment side of the picture, more than 40 per cent of the men over 65 and about eight per cent of the women were employed last year.

State health departments spend about $60 million annually throughout the United States.

These men will share the responsibilities of the rural division in the coming campaign, Mr. Bowen reports.

Mr. Dayton, country agricultural extension director, is serving for his fourth consecutive year in this capacity. Mr. Boak, R. D. 4, is serving for the second year, and Mr. Laughner, R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, is serving as co-chairman for the first time.

Mr. Bowen stated that the rural division plays a very important part in the Community Chest campaign. It is made up of the entire area outside of the city limits of New Castle, including the communities of Bessemer, Mt. Jackson, Harlansburg, New Bedford, East Brook, Wampum, Hillsville, Volant, Enon Valley, South New Castle, Boro, Pulaski and all of the townships in the county.

The general campaign chairman stressed the fact that the rural areas are as much a part of the Community Chest of New Castle and vicinity as the city of New Castle is.

Mutual Benefits The 12 local agencies and the U. S. O., which has been added to this year's chest, serve the county, with city and rural residents receiving mutual benefits.

Better than 25 per cent of the free-patient cases at both the New Castle and Jameson Memorial hospitals were from rural areas. A total of 59 persons from rural districts received aid from the Jameson Memorial hospital during the past year, representing a total of 781 free-patient days. New Castle hospital gave assistance to 57 rural residents, representing 748 free-patient days.

In addition to these services, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Margaret Henry Home, Rescue Mission, Salvation Army and U. S. O. serve the entire rural area as well as the city. Many girls, working in the city but living in townships or boroughs, live at the Y. W. C. A. during the week at little expense and may use all of the many available facilities.

All Serve Community Thirty-eight families from outside the city limits received aid from the City Rescue Mission during the past year and case after case could be mentioned to show how the Community Chest agencies serve the whole area.

The important fact is, however, that the Chest does serve the rural areas and needs the support of the rural residents. Always in the past the rural division has come through with its quota during the campaign and the co-chairmen of the coming campaign feel certain that this record will continue this year.

It is estimated that at least 25 per cent of the 2,100 men and women from this area in the armed forces are from districts outside the city limits and will share in the benefits of the U. S. O.'s all over the nation.

The campaign of the Community Chest of New Castle and vicinity will get under way on October 11. The 1951 campaign quota is $140,163.

Poison-Resistant Insects Become Serious Problem

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(INS)—The threat of poison-resistant insects has become a serious problem to harried agriculture department scientists.

That threat was first posed many years ago, but in recent years the wide prominence given reports of DDT-resistant houseflies has spurred department research in this field.

The scientists frankly admit they now know very little about how insects develop resistance to the poisons and sprays.

But, they said, they are going at the problem bit by bit—getting all the information they can. Some future day those pieces may all fit together.

When they do, it will be an important occasion for the farmer who must spend much of his time and money fighting insect destruction.

Some Of Clues Here are some of the clues the department researchers have uncovered in their work with houseflies:

They found that flies that are highly resistant to one insecticide may be fairly resistant to other chemicals of widely different structure. But—if resistance is low the flies are usually resistant only to closely related insecticides.

Going further, the scientists have developed insect strains in the laboratory that are resistant to every insecticide tried on them—including those of plant origin as well as synthetic materials. Wild strains, except in rare instances, are not nearly as resistant.

Resistance Varies Then, the scientists have found the degree of resistance varies considerably from generation to generation.

Finally, they discovered that once flies have developed resistance to any insecticide, they become resistant to other insecticides at a much faster pace.

What do all these findings mean?

No scientist is willing to say for sure. But all are convinced that they are putting the puzzle together—piece by piece—and that some day the entire picture will become clear.

There is a legend that at one time a requirement for graduation from Chinese universities was the ability of a student to lift a 330-pound block of stone above his head.

Cultural note from Hollywood via Mike Connolly: a starlet gave a ninteen decorator carte blanche in redoing her drawing room and library. "I don't want you to do the joint," she declared, "as long as when my friends get a load of it they'll just drop dead."

Connolly also reports that a producer had a nightmare the other evening in which his newly finished epic, costing three million dollars, was previewed in a trans-Pacific stratoliner, and the pilot radiated back to the mainland, "I saw history made tonight! CHEMISTRY OF HEALTH

John Jacob Abel was a chemist with an idea. He thought that knowledge of the chemistry of body fluids, tissues and organs would help define their functions... point the way to better health. That's how the important science of Endocrinology was born. Through study of the ductless glands, Abel was the first to extract a pure secretion. He succeeded in obtaining adrenalin from the adrenal glands on May 6, 1897... a drug very important today in the treatment of certain heart and shock cases.

Flight Deck Crackup, Fire On Aircraft Carrier Essex

TOKYO, Sept. 19.—(INS)—The Navy reported that the aircraft carrier Essex was able to continue combat operations against the communists in Korea despite a flight deck crackup and fire Sunday which killed at least two persons and injured 15.

Five men still were listed as missing. Reports from the carrier said casualties occurred among men working around aircraft parked on the forward part of the flight deck.

The fire was touched off when an F2H jet Banshee fighter hopped arresting barriers and crashed into parked planes on the starboard side of the flight deck.

Hits Other Planes
The runaway plane piled into other Banshees and jet Panthers. Four were destroyed and four damaged extensively.

Prompt damage control measures prevented the fire from spreading to other aircraft on the flight deck or from igniting ammunition at nearby anti-aircraft guns.

The crash occurred at 6:23 p.m. while the Essex, part of task force 77, was retrieving her aircraft following daylong attacks over North Korea. The task force was more than 75 miles off Wonsan at the time.

The Navy said that Vice Adm. Harold M. Martin, Seventh Fleet commander, offered to detach the Essex from the task force the same day.

But Martin received the reply that the crew of the Essex had requested that they be allowed to carry out remaining flight schedules and that damage would not reduce her ability to launch flights at communist targets.

Martin radioed the Essex yesterday stating: "I extend my most sincere sympathy for the loss you've sustained and approve with admiration your determination to carry out your schedule without change."

Mr. Hope Cemetery Cleanup Saturday

There will also be a meeting of the directors on the same day, it is announced. All members who can be asked to come for the all-day cleanup.

Garden Notes

All vegetables except those planned for storage should be kept closely picked. Broccoli, especially, should be kept from putting out yellow flowers.

Currants should be included when bush fruits are desired. They are especially hardy, tolerating both cold and shade. They give a crop the first year.

Tuberous bulbs should be taken up after the first light frosts, dried thoroughly and stored in a cool, dry place during the winter.

If onions planned for storage purposes have not yet started ripening, bend the tops over sharply just above the ground with the back of a garden rake.

White mustard can be sown in September for a fall crop of salad or cooking greens. Cover the seed lightly with soil and keep the soil moist. Plants will be ready in four or five weeks.

Keep checking late cabbage plants for signs of cabbage worms. The bean beetle may also be active even this late in the season.

CHEERIO

Cheer up! Things might be a lot better than they are, so why growl! Grumpy people do not seem to add much to the joy of living. Smiles are just as cheap as frowns and help digestion more.

If you have back-ache and stomach-ache and headache, keep quiet about it and no one will ever know.

If your breakfast was not very substantial, tighten up your belt (if any) and look forward to a good dinner.

There are a lot of shots and serums and antitoxins and operations but cheerio is not to be sneezed at.

German Refugee Dies For America, Given Citizenship

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(INS)—The house moved Tuesday to fulfill the last wish of a German refugee who died on Guadalcanal by approving a bill to confer U. S. citizenship upon him posthumously.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. McDonough (R. Calif.), would give citizenship to Siegfried Oberdorfer, who was killed on May 20, 1943, while serving as a medical corpsman in the U. S. forces.

Shortly before he was killed, Oberdorfer told his commanding officer: "Sir, if I could go into combat as an American citizen I would be the happiest man on earth. My only fear is that I will be killed before that citizenship is granted."

Indians Trail By Percentage Points, Dodgers Worried

Giants Only Three Games Behind; Tribe And Yankees 'Neck And Neck'

By HOWARD SIGMUND

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Leave us not get disturbed, gents. But what gives with dem Bums?

The Dodgers, busily trying to dope out which of the American League's big three would make a softer world series touch, are forgetting one little item. They're not the National League champs—yet.

Poor men could become rich and a guy could just about retire on his take from a cyanide concession in Flatbush if the Brooklyn bums could keep the Indians at this point. But baseball deals in the fantastic and today's standings show the Durochermen three games out.

Cards Top Dodgers
A sign of the times was Brooklyn's 7 to 1 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals last night. The Dodgers went into the game with a 16-3 mark against the once-obliging Red Birds.

The Giants, on the other hand, made it five straight by edging the Cincinnati Reds, 6 to 5.

Simple mathematics gives the Dodgers the flag if they win eight of their remaining twelve. The Giants have to make up five games in the all-important "lost" column. They have eight left to play.

The Giants have to keep winning and Brooklyn has to keep losing in order for the great upset to take place. Can it? Will it?

Brooklyn has dropped four of seven on this final western swing and will have to get on the ball again to sew the thing up once and for all.

Indians Win
That American League tinger, meanwhile, keeps moving along in its day-to-day madness.

The Cleveland Indians pulled themselves out of their downward spiral by belting the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 4. The New York Yankees took a 7 to 1 pasting from the Chicago White Sox.

The Yankee league lead was trimmed back to three per centage points over the Tribe, 622 to 619, with Boston making up the rear, 2½ games back.

Other National League games saw the Chicago Cubs defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 4, and the Pittsburgh Pirates nose out the Boston Braves, 6 to 5.

Kiner Hits 41st
Ralph Kiner hit his 41st homer for the Bucs and Len Yochim won his first major league start.

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers stopped Philadelphia's win streak at five straight, 8 to 6.

And the St. Louis Browns took two from the Washington Senators, 8 to 0 and 3 to 2 in ten innings.

'Bridie' Expects Tough Game

Paul Cuba Scouts Youngstown East

More than 70 members attended the second dinner meeting of the Elks quarterback club which was held in the Elks home last night and heard Coach Phil Bridenbaugh state that he expects New Castle to have a tough game with Youngstown East, Friday night.

He stated he is moving the grid-ders around so he will have his best material ready to start the game.

Bridenbaugh added that "his chief difficulty is obtaining backfield replacements.

"The team's spirit is good, and this can overcome a lot of faults," the veteran coach reported.

Paul Cuba, an ex-member of the coaching staff scouted East and told the members what Ne-Ca-Hi could expect Friday night.

Assistant Coach Bill Klee commended the grid-ders on their improved line play.

Verne Carr, P. E. R., said the aim of the Elks is to do everything possible for boys, and the "Quarter-Backers" should continue to remain firm behind the team.

Next Tuesday evening, the entire football squad will be dinner guests of Alvin Shenkan.

During the evening Austin Cow-meadow conducted a "Quiz" concerning the two games played.

The questions were answered by Charlie Cuba, Bob Melder, Frank Cubellis, Guy Amadio, Ugo Fiorante, Fred McClain, Bill Boak, Joe Frenzel, Wilbur Focht, Pete Mazza and Frank Burrell.

Ruffy Defeats Farmer Marlin

Farmer Has Edge Until Fall Occurs

Curtain was rung down on professional wrestling exhibition last night at Flaherty field where Ruffy Silverstein defeated Farmer Marlin with a reverse arm bar hold in 27 minutes.

It was an exciting match. Up to the time the fall came, the Farmer held a slight edge. At one period of the bout, both grapplers fell out of the ring and tacked each other in the front row.

Just before the end came, the Farmer dove over Silverstein, who moved out of his way, pounced upon the Farmer and applied the reverse arm bar hold.

The Farmer did not believe Referee Eddie Solomon counted him out properly and a "crawling match" took place between Silverstein and the Farmer.

Ford, Poffo Win
The Tag match found Bobby Ford and Angelo Poffo winning two of three falls from Danny Ferraza and George Micracosta, the Golden Greek.

It was a tough, rough match all the way.

Ferraza scored the first fall by using a flying mare after which he applied a body press to down Poffo in 13 minutes and 15 seconds.

Ford flopped Ferraza in the second falls, winning in five minutes and five seconds.

While the two wrestlers were grappling and pummeling each other while trying for the third fall, Referee Marzio disqualified Micracosta and Ferraza in six minutes.

The midgits, Tiny Rowe and Tom Thumb, put on a match which was filled with grips and comedy.

Thumb proved the "villain" of the match but was finally disposed of by Rowe with a body press in 16 minutes and 55 seconds.

The promotion of the Jefferson A. C. attracted more than 700 persons, many other fans staying on account of the chilly night.

Harness 'Derby' At Delaware, O.

Thursday Event Has $65,000 Prize

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 19.—(INS)—At least 13 horses from eight states will be "declared in" today at Delaware, O., for harness racing's richest racing classic—the $65,000 Little Brown Jug.

One other, Otis Anderson's Battle Prince from Lafayette, Ind., may become the Jug's 14th and final entry depending on whether the closing payment of $500 is made to keep him eligible for tomorrow's "Kentucky Derby" for three-year-old pacers.

Ohio is out to match 1951 Jug honors with four entries—the largest from any state.

The Jug anti-climaxes the $100,000 Delaware grand circuit meeting which moves into its second day today.

Fine Program For Canfield Speedway

CANFIELD, O., Sept. 19.—The closing of the Sportsman Class of stock car racing at the Canfield speedway will find the largest entry list of the year vying for top honors in tonight's program of speed.

More than 70 drivers will be on hand for this program of nine thrilling events, with a surprise event carded for the entertainment and amusement of the fans.

All the top boys of the circuit will try to garner the 25 lap feature event with the favorites to win including Barney Barnes, Jimmy Romine, Wes Crowley, Youngstown, and the three national leaders, Mike Klapak, Warren, Mike Little, Johnstown, and Dick Linder, Pittsburgh.

Those drivers who are knocking on the door of the top 20 at Canfield, will put forth a lot of extra effort to crash the coveted Friday.

Football Tickets Placed On Sale

J. H. Earl McKenzie, business manager at Senior High, announced today that reserved seats for the New Castle-Youngstown East game will be on sale this week starting today 9 to 4 at the North street school, through Friday.

Titan Gridders Hope To Shatter Rockets 'Jinx'

Battle Saturday At New Wilmington

Westminster college gridders open their 1951 schedule here Saturday night against Slippery Rock—a team they haven't defeated since 1934.

The Rockets not only have defeated Westminster 13 games in a row, but also have allowed the Titans only six points in the past eight contests.

Rocket coach Bill Storer will send a two-rotation system based around 14 returning lettermen on the field Saturday in an attempt to keep the long victory streak unbroken.

Hopes To Break Jinx

Westminster coach Mel Hetzler, also an advocate of the two-team system and "T" formation, will have the best opportunity in recent years to break the Rocket jinx. He will enter the contest with last year's team almost intact. Seventeen lettermen with experienced men for all starting positions form the nucleus of the Titan squad.

Both teams will be but to redeem last season's poor showing. The Rockets lost five while winning three. Westminster won two games, lost six and tied one. One of the Rockets' victories was a 19-6 win over Westminster.

Pass Defense Emphasized At Cane Practice

Youngstown East, the Taggart stadium invader this Friday, should have more difficulty going overland than did Carriack.

The Canes now have the advantage of a scout's information, a look at the Youngstown plays through their own second team, and a full day's practice against all forms of air attack.

The "Blacks" in Tuesday's practice enjoyed immediate success against the "Reds" who were instructed to charge but refrain from interfering with the passer. Endless instruction relative to covering the pass area, and the intended receiver, was given Frenzel, Medure, Cuba, Amadio, Cubellis, Cupido and others guarding B team passes were knocked down or intercepted.

Charles Works Out
Frank Olney, 212-pound tackle, and Angelo Burelli received work with the first team defensive alignment. Olney replaced Bob Melder, who was sidelined because of an injury, and Burelli, who was previously running with the second team as a fullback, was inserted as a guard.

Mitchell Charles made his first appearance in uniform since his injury at football camp. He was, of course, kept out of contact work, but did run through plays with the squad at the center position.

Charles is not expected to play before the Sharon game. Cubellis showed up with a taped elbow but was not hindered by it in his passing.

Jagielly Bowlers To Meet Tonight

All members of the Jagielly bowling league will meet tonight at the club rooms at 7 o'clock. It was announced by president Joseph J. Ludwiczak. It is imperative that all members who wish to bowl this year be present.

Cementers Injury Riddled For Home Opener Saturday

Bessemer high school will open its home season Saturday night with a lineup that scarcely resembles the one the Cementers opened their season against Arnold with two weeks ago.

Injuries have riddled the Cementer eleven and in order to keep as strong a team as possible on the field, head coach Bill Ciccone, has been forced to make switches in positions.

Paul Shuluga, starting left tackle in the first two games of the season, will be out of action for the remainder of the season. It is reported.

Mike Lucere, right tackle, is still laid up and is not practicing this week. He may be in uniform Saturday night, but will probably not start.

Joe Comness, veteran tailback, has little use of his arms as a result of an injured nerve in his back, but coaches are hoping it will respond to heat treatments.

To fill the vacant left tackle position, Phil DeArment has been moved from fullback to the line, and guard Eddie Novad has been shifted to full.

Rudy Retort and Gerald Simari will probably fill the other vacant line positions. Norman Lupo may get the nod in place of Comness at left half.

Novad had his first experience at fullback at Evans City last Friday and performed very well. The 155-pound senior proved an excellent line backer and picked up the lion's share of Cementer yardage.

Cementers Short

Coach Ciccone got a good look at Lowellville in its opener Saturday night and was impressed with what he saw. . . . Arnold, the Cementer's first game opponent, defeated West Deer 7-6 Saturday. . . . West Deer dumped Millvale 14-0 in its opener. . . . Bessemer coaches were high in their praise of the hospitality of the Arnold team and people. . . . Finest treatment ever received away from home, says Ciccone.

Baseball Magnates To Pick Commissioner On Thursday

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—(INS)—The names of Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, and Ford Frick, president of the National League, received prominent attention today as major league owners assembled to pick a new baseball commissioner.

They will meet formally tomorrow to elect a successor to A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who was ousted from the $65,000-a-year post last December after nearly six years of service.

The new commissioner needs a three quarters vote of the 16 major league owners.

Six Considered
Sources close to the owners reveal that numerous ballots were taken at two previous meetings in New York but nine was the most votes any individual received. They claim those ballots were cast for Giles, the silver-haired president of the Reds.

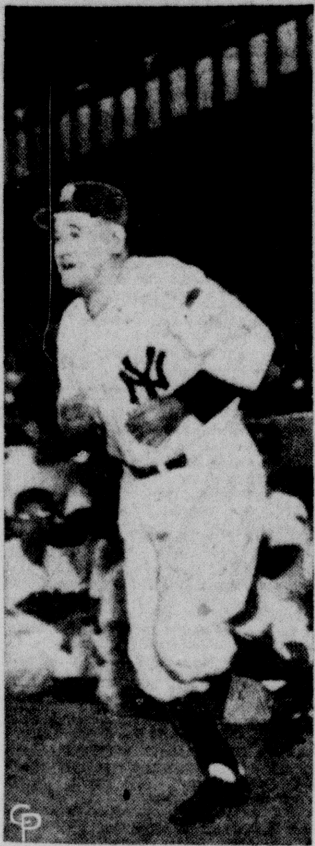

Besides Giles and Frick, another baseball man reported to be on the owners' list is George Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Others who are receiving serious consideration are Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State college; James A. Farley, chairman of the board of Coca Cola Export, and former Sen. James A. Mead of New York, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

Milwaukee-St. Paul Will Be AA Finalists

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 19.—(INS)—St. Paul and Milwaukee were lined up today for a final league playoff series to determine which will represent the American Association in minor league baseball's "little world series."

The Saints won the right to meet Milwaukee in the best four-of-seven series last night when they eliminated the Louisville Colonels four games to one in the semi-final playoff.

St. Paul spotted the Colonels a one-run lead until the eighth inning in the final contest last night and then beat out a 4 to 3 victory. Clint Peterson, who relieved starter John Rutherford in the seventh, received credit for the victory.

The winner of the St. Paul-Milwaukee playoff will meet the international league playoff winner in the "little world series."

Jameson Memorial Hospital Construction Gains Speed

Huge projects, like huge animals or machines, are slowly and ponderously started, but they have a weight of momentum that overcomes all obstacles.

At least that is the conclusion of the directors of the Jameson Memorial hospital expansion program. Although the directors of the million-dollar-plus expansion do not think of the hospital extension in terms of elephants or steamrollers, they are pleased at the speed which construction has attained after a slow start.

Speed Up Develops

Roger W. Rowland, president of the board of trustees at the hospital, in a report on the present status of the new construction, today disclosed that the new wing is being completed at an increasing rate of speed.

"The concrete foundation for the new wing has long been completed," Mr. Rowland said. "The basement support structures are finished, and the first floor concrete is nearly half poured. At the speed we are now making, the brickwork should be completed and the building roofed over before winter."

Mr. Rowland went on to state that the construction schedule is being met all along the line, and that hospital officials are pleased with the results.

Original Delay

Some New Castle citizens were displeased at the original delay in construction, Mr. Rowland stated, but they shelved their displeasure when the necessity for the delay was explained. Although the campaign for expansion funds was completed in 1948, the building was not begun until March of 1951. This seems like a long time to those who do not realize the planning and detail work necessary to a project of this size, the president of the board explained.

"Although the campaign ended in 1948, the total of that drive represented pledges to pay, not actual cash. We could not undertake construction until a considerable amount of those pledges had been paid in full. In 1948 we commissioned our architects to deliver finished plans and specifications, and this consumed another lengthy period of time. At last, in late 1948, we felt that we had sufficient funds to proceed."

Mr. Rowland explained that application was made for federal assistance under the Hill-Burton Act. This act provides for assistance to voluntary, non-profit hospitals who are planning expansion or new construction and grants out of tax money up to 1/3 of the total building costs for hospitals.

Fund Is Cut

In 1950, when the application for Jameson Memorial hospital was to receive consideration, an economy minded Congress cut the Hill-Burton Act appropriation from $150,000,000 to $75,000,000.

Federal assistance in the hospital building field is allocated on a priority basis, with first priority going to hospitals which have dangerous or over-crowded conditions. Many hospitals in Pennsylvania have sufficient beds to meet or nearly meet the demand, but do not have fireproof buildings. If they applied for funds, they received a higher priority than the Jameson, which is fireproof throughout. Due to the decreased budget the Jameson application did not receive favorable consideration in 1950.

Recognizing the necessity for immediate expansion, hospital officials began construction without federal aid, and general contractors Matthew Leivo and Sons, of New Castle, began excavation and construction on March 22, 1951.

It is evident, "that construction was begun at the earliest opportunity. No avoidable delay was permitted and the building is now progressing according to plan."

Retired Navy Man Has 101st Birthday

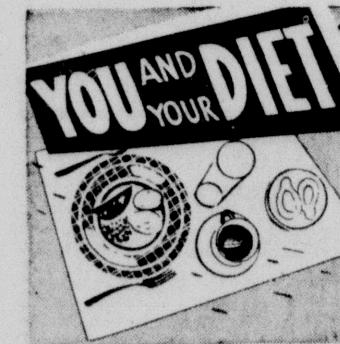

SALEM, N. J., Sept. 19.—(INS)—George C. Lippincott retired from the Navy in 1886 when he was told he had only a few months to live because of a heart condition.

On Tuesday he celebrated his 101st birthday anniversary at his Salem home.

Dr. Lippincott is the oldest graduate of Jefferson Medical College and the oldest retired naval officer.

No Miracle Drug Can Cure Ulcers, Doctors Are Told

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—(INS)—Delegates to the 101st annual convention of the Pennsylvania Medical Society in Pittsburgh heard Tuesday that there is no miracle drug which will cure ulcers.

Dr. Morris Hershenson, associate professor of medicine at the University of Pittsburgh, told 2,000 physicians:

"So far there is no single drug which counteracts all the contributory causes of ulcer as we now understand, nor corrects all the pathologic physiology present."

Drugs Are Helpful

Dr. Hershenson said that treatment by drugs, while helpful, is not alone the answer. He said that psychotherapy, aimed at reducing anxiety and nervous strain, have shown significant benefits, and that rest and diet are still necessary.

Basically, he said, treatment of uncomplicated peptic ulcer is no different from what it was for the past 10 or 20 years. The new medicines are just doing their part of the job better.

Dr. Everett N. Collins, of the Cleveland clinic, blamed bad habits for indigestion. He said there is no substitute for regular hours, plenty of sleep and unhurried eating.

Federation Of Blind Renews Appeal For Increased Pensions

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Federation of the blind today renewed its appeal for passage of a pending bill to increase blind pensions in the commonwealth from $40 to $50 a month.

William Taylor, Jr., of Media, chairman of the federation's legislative committee, pointed out that Pennsylvania has been receiving federal funds for the blind since January, 1951.

Calling for approval of House bill 470 introduced last spring by Rep. Gus Wachaus, of Schuylkill county, Taylor said there is an erroneous belief that the federal government does not contribute toward state expenditures for the blind.

Taylor said the federal law was amended in 1950 to include Pennsylvania's pension and that during the first nine months of 1951 the federal government has paid $2,358,000 to the commonwealth "solely toward the blind pension."
